

Introduction

Takealot revolutionized and shook-up e-commerce in South Africa by ensuring excellent online customer service, while Capitec improved the access to affordable banking. These are the two companies in which this report will focus on.

This report will outline how Takealot used technology as a strategic enabler as well as explore its competitive advantage in the e-commerce space. Additionally, the report will also delve into how Capitec harnessed branding for their banking success, while leveraging network effects to better serve their customers.

A review of Takealot's use of technology as a strategic enabler, and competitive advantage

Technology as a strategic enabler

Competitive Advantage

A review of Capitec's use of Branding, and Network effects

Branding

Network Effects

Reflection

References:

TakeAlot references

<https://mybroadband.co.za/news/business/520989-how-takealot-revolutionised-online-shopping-in-south-africa.html>

Capitec References

<https://www.allangray.co.za/latest-insights/companies/capitec-the-way-to-build-a-bank/>